The drawings filed on May 18, 2004 are acceptable subject to correction of the informalities indicated below. In order to avoid abandonment of this application, correction is required in reply to the Office action. The correction will not be held in abeyance. Figures 4 and 6-11 show element 93, this same element is described in the specification as element 93A and 93b. The specification and drawings must be in agreement.

Claim Objections

Claim 3 objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate of claim 2. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k). Claim 3 has the shelves of any group as being integral with each other. The definition of integral is to "form as a unit with another part". This is the same unit that will be fashioned by the limitations of claim 2. As such claim 3 is a duplicate of claim 2 in terms of the actual meanings of the limitations therein. Claim 3 must be cancelled prior to the application being allowed.

Response to Amendment

The amendments filed on December 10, 2004 have been entered into the record.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1,2 and 4-30 are allowed. Claim 1 has the feature of a first finger and a second retaining finger working in conjunction to remove an article from a shelf and place it on a storage and retrieval device. The closest prior art of Duncan and Anderson does not teach or suggest using fingers to unload the trays.

Claims 13 and 26 are allowed for the reasons given in the previous office action.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed December 10, 2004 with respect to the warning for claim 3 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. As discussed above to make something integral means to connect it to other parts. As such claim 3 is a substantial duplicate of claim 2 and it is now objected to.

Applicant's arguments filed December 10, 2004, with respect to claims 1,6,7,29 and 30 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The rejection of claims 1,6,7,29 and 30 has been withdrawn.
